From Nicaragua.

The last advices from Nicaragua are, that General Walker had appointed Fermin Ferree, a native Nicaraguan, as Minister to the United States. Col. Wheeler, the returns from all but eight the American Minister, was still in poor health, and was about to return home.

Reports favorable to Walker's continued cess in Nicaragua are sent to the United States, and among them, is one to the effect that peace will soon be proclaimed. The following which we take from the Panama Star, of October 23d, gives a different account of Walker's late victories, from those already published.

From a private letter received from Greytown by the Royal West India Steamer Dec, we have been favored with the following extract:

"From the interior there are so many contradictory statements that really none of them are reliable, the most so is, that on the 11th, Walker marched his forces to Masaya, and when within two miles of there the allied forces came out to meet him and after some skirmishing retreated to that town, where Walker received a very warm reception, so much so, as to think Granada more hospitable quarters. On his return, which was most unexpected, he found the city in posession of a party of Chormorrists from Chantacles, numbering some 300, who had sacked the city, even Walker's private papers coming into their hands, and Grana-da was theirs were it not that in their eagerness for plunder they neglected the necessary precaution for defence. They stripped Walker of all his clothing and provis ions, as well as those belonging to the ar-Waiker's position is a critical one, and on his next battle depends his fate. He receives numerous augmentations and plentiful supplies by every opportunity, never-theless the desertions from his army are nu-merous. A dreadful freshet had occurred at Car ton. All the street were submerged daily for a fortnight, and much property had been destroyed. The great Pagoda, fourteen centuries old, had been undermined by water, and had fallen, burying the priests beneath it.

A great fire had also occurred at Canton. Hundreds of buildings and boats were burned, and two hundred men, women and children were burnt or drowned.

The rice crops in the vicinity of Canton were greatly damaged by the freshet.— Many villages had also been destroyed.

From the Cleveland Plaindealer, Nov. 14th. The Government Official Scoffs! PROVIDENCE AND POLITICS.—The church from the days of the Crusades has taught the doctrine of special Providence. It is in its rituals, songs and sermons, and is an essential part of its creed. Upon this belief s founded the duty of prayer. In the late campaign this dogma has been put to the severest test.

Priests, praying men and praying women have presented the bloody issue of "bleeding Kansas" upon their knees, and after posting their God in regard to the doings of the Border Ruffians and the wickedness of the Democratic party, called on Him as the unerring judge of all hearts, and the omnipotent dispenser of human events, to put down the powers that be and go for Fremont and Freedom."

Every fact, every argument, every consideration that could be brought to bear upon an All-wise and Omnipotent Being was piously presented and aid devoutly asked. Here was a case that called for the especial interposition of Divine Power, the strongest case ever presented by mortal

"The bloodiest picture in the book of time," and yet what is the sequel. The people of the United States, it seems, were left to regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution." The principles of the Nebraska Bill were not only endorsed by the people but by the Almighty himself, if there is any truth in the dogma of "special Providences." Either Beecher and his satellites were mistaken in their facts, or else deceived as to the character of the Almighty in interfering in such matters.
